The Elements

What holds us, wraps around us, composes us, becomes us? "Molecules," Science says. The elements. What are the elements? They can be so many things. There is the Earth, Wind, Fire, and Water. There is the learning, the growing, the becoming. There is pride, spirit, tradition. The thrill and despair. The you and me. The elements of a moment caught in your heart.

The elements? The elements of Rancho High School; of the people, the times, the emotions. What will you remember? Catch them.. we are the elements of Rancho High .....

Watching the Earth
A Few Miles From Las Lomas Ranch

The sun is going down behind the pass
Out of washes and gullies
the night begins to spill,
the Pacific rises and falls past the sun.
It is the moment when light bursts open the needles of cactus silently;
across the desert, hydrogen pronounces its syllables,
filling the lowness with water.
Amoebas and paramecia
teem toward the shores of the mind,
a bridge of cells so slender
when I cross over,
the shadow flows from my body,
from saguaros and big-horn sheep,
one shadow of earth things reaching across the valley toward the tops of pines, the panhandle of Texas and the argon ghosts of Oklahoma towns.

Winds of Time

Friday night games....
orbs and decibels of hoarse excitement
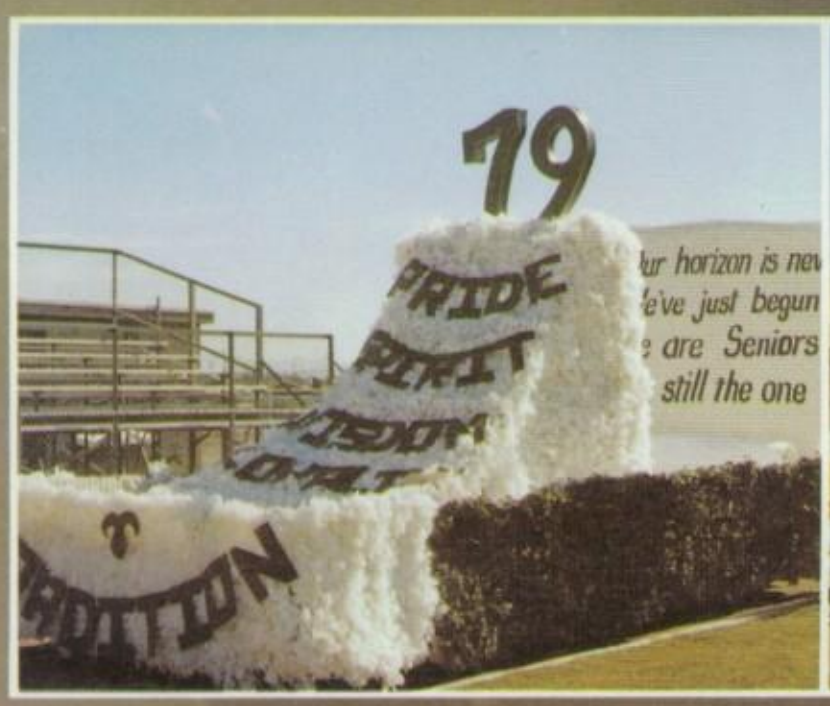
float among the bleachers.
Raw popcorn exuberance
...so much ...
we're here, we cheer!
We swell with the time clock,
five, four, three, two...
Won.
We float on the wind.

Rivalry....
the spirit sticks, the floats.
"We're number one!"
"No, we're number one!"
Sweet revenge
Cheer for your class:
"Freshmen!" — "Sophomores!"
"Juniors!" — "Seniors!"
We rasp, we gasp.
We soar with the wind.



The future....
ACT's SAT's
A translucent world
wraps me,
envelopes me...
the future?
"What do you want to be when you grow up?"
We strive, we search.
We capture the wind.

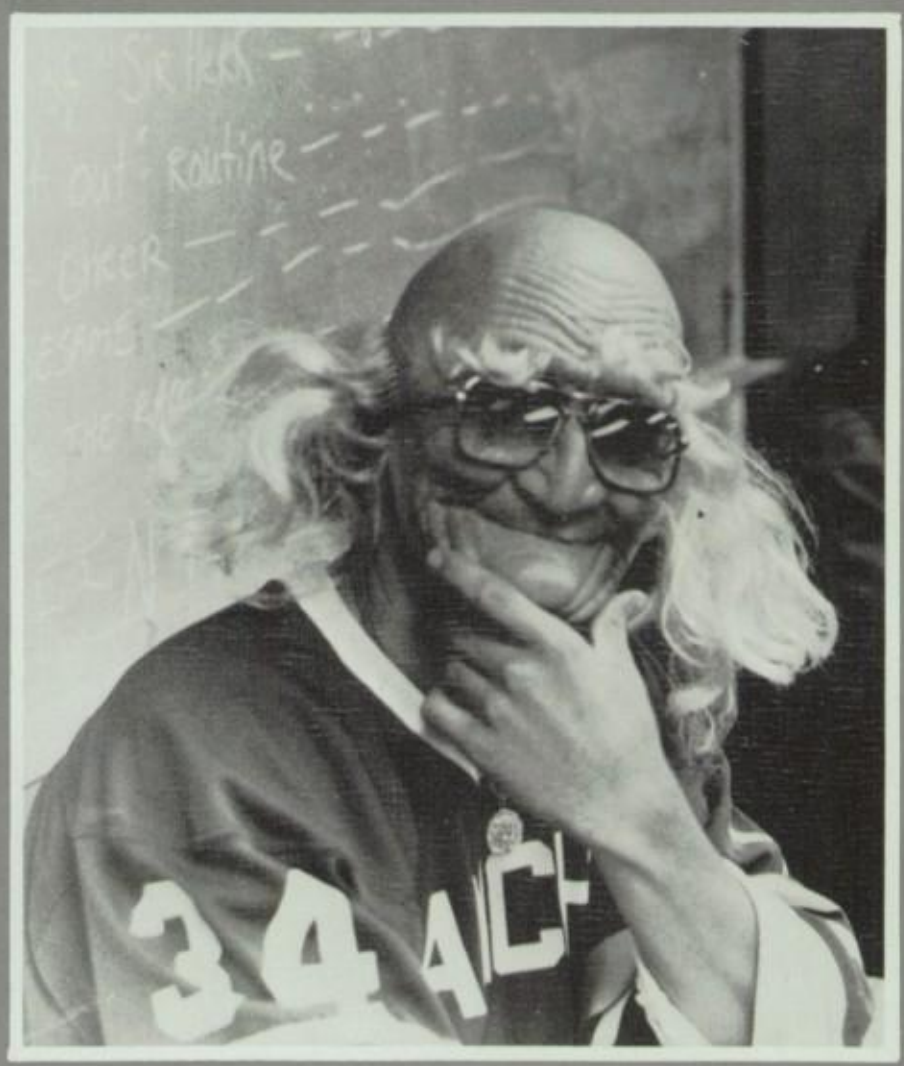
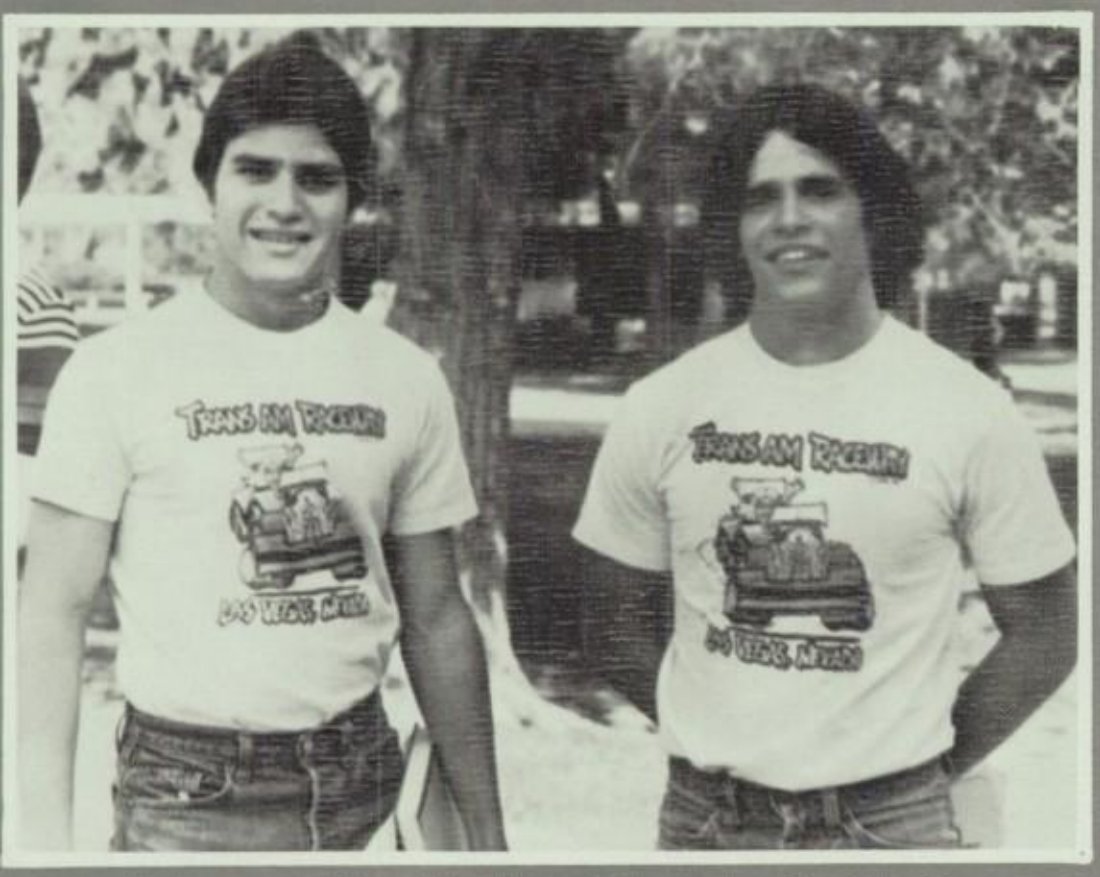
"Rancho Is . . ." Homecoming Theme

Juniors exterminated competition in the Bug Race. Here, they plan their strategy.



Junior Dave Smith acquires a new look on Crazy Hat Day. Evidently he thought it was Crazy Face Day.

Senior jocks Anthony Lozano, Scott Killebrew, Mike Brendel and Bernie Rhodes put thier legs up for inspection during the Sexy leg contest. This contest was one of the many thrilling events which filled the week prior to the game.



Eloy Fernandez and Kenneth Floyd show spirit by dressing alike on Twin's Day.

Not only have Rancho Homecomings become the traditional way to gather alumni but also a time for students to let loose and be happy. Student Council planned activities made the week before the game days of unexpected sights and anticipating emotions. The theme, "Rancho Is" . . .. was explanatory upon seeing participants on Crazy Hat Day, Twin's Day, and Kiddie's Day. The Sexy Leg Contest, Mourning Day and The Homecoming assembly are other events which raised spirits and smiles. Senator Howard Cannon Honored Rancho as Grand Marshall of the Homecoming parade. While Terrie Constantine reigned as queen. The climax of the week was the football victory over Basic, 63-6, which just goes to show just what Rancho really is.

Diana Cope and Denise Van Hatisma make a pretty pair in their identical outfits.

During the caramel apple eating contest, an unlucky Kenny Church was surprised by an onion.

Rancho Students Learn Government

Boys' and Girls' State, provides an opportunity for students in the 11th grade to see government in action. It purports "to educate the youth in the duties, privileges, rights, and responsibilities of being an American citizen. Each one of these students has to keep a high grade point average throughout his or her high school career in order to be eligible for the program. It also calls for having high moral characteristics and good sportsmanship. Hopefully, these students will someday use the knowledge learned at camp, to benefit themselves and the public.

The boys went to The Naval Air Station near Fallon, Nevada, and the girls went to Clear Creek Youth Camp, near Carson City. It took place June 12 to 17, 1978.

Entire Month Set Aside

This year Clark County celebrated Black history month throughout February. All of the area schools held commemorating exercises in honor of accomplishments made by Black Americans.

Rancho held the traditional banquet, fashion show, and assemblies. This year as a special attraction, the Rainbow club was able to get James Brown to attend one of the assemblies. Mr. Brown also staged a special student concert in honor of Black history month.

Royalty for Black History month king and queen were introduced in the first assembly. This year's king was Earlist Johnson. His queen was Sherrie Downing.

Other special guests who gave their time to participate in the special activities were two members from the cast of "Livin' Fat" and a dance student from U.N.L.V.

One Last Fling
Senior Playday

The day when the seniors show their true personality and dress up (or down) occurred this year on April 6. Senior Playday was a big success with several zany participants. Costumes refected current movies, the gang from "Warriors," television shows, "The Hulk" and made provacative social comments. Hare Krishnas and representatives of the Gay Liberation. The animal kingdom was also well represented by several mice, cats, rabbits and two large, almost unrecognizable gorillas. Cultural groups were evident in kimonos, ponchos and buckskin.

Introductions during first and second lunches highlighted the day with the Rabbit, Scott Wallace, as emcee.

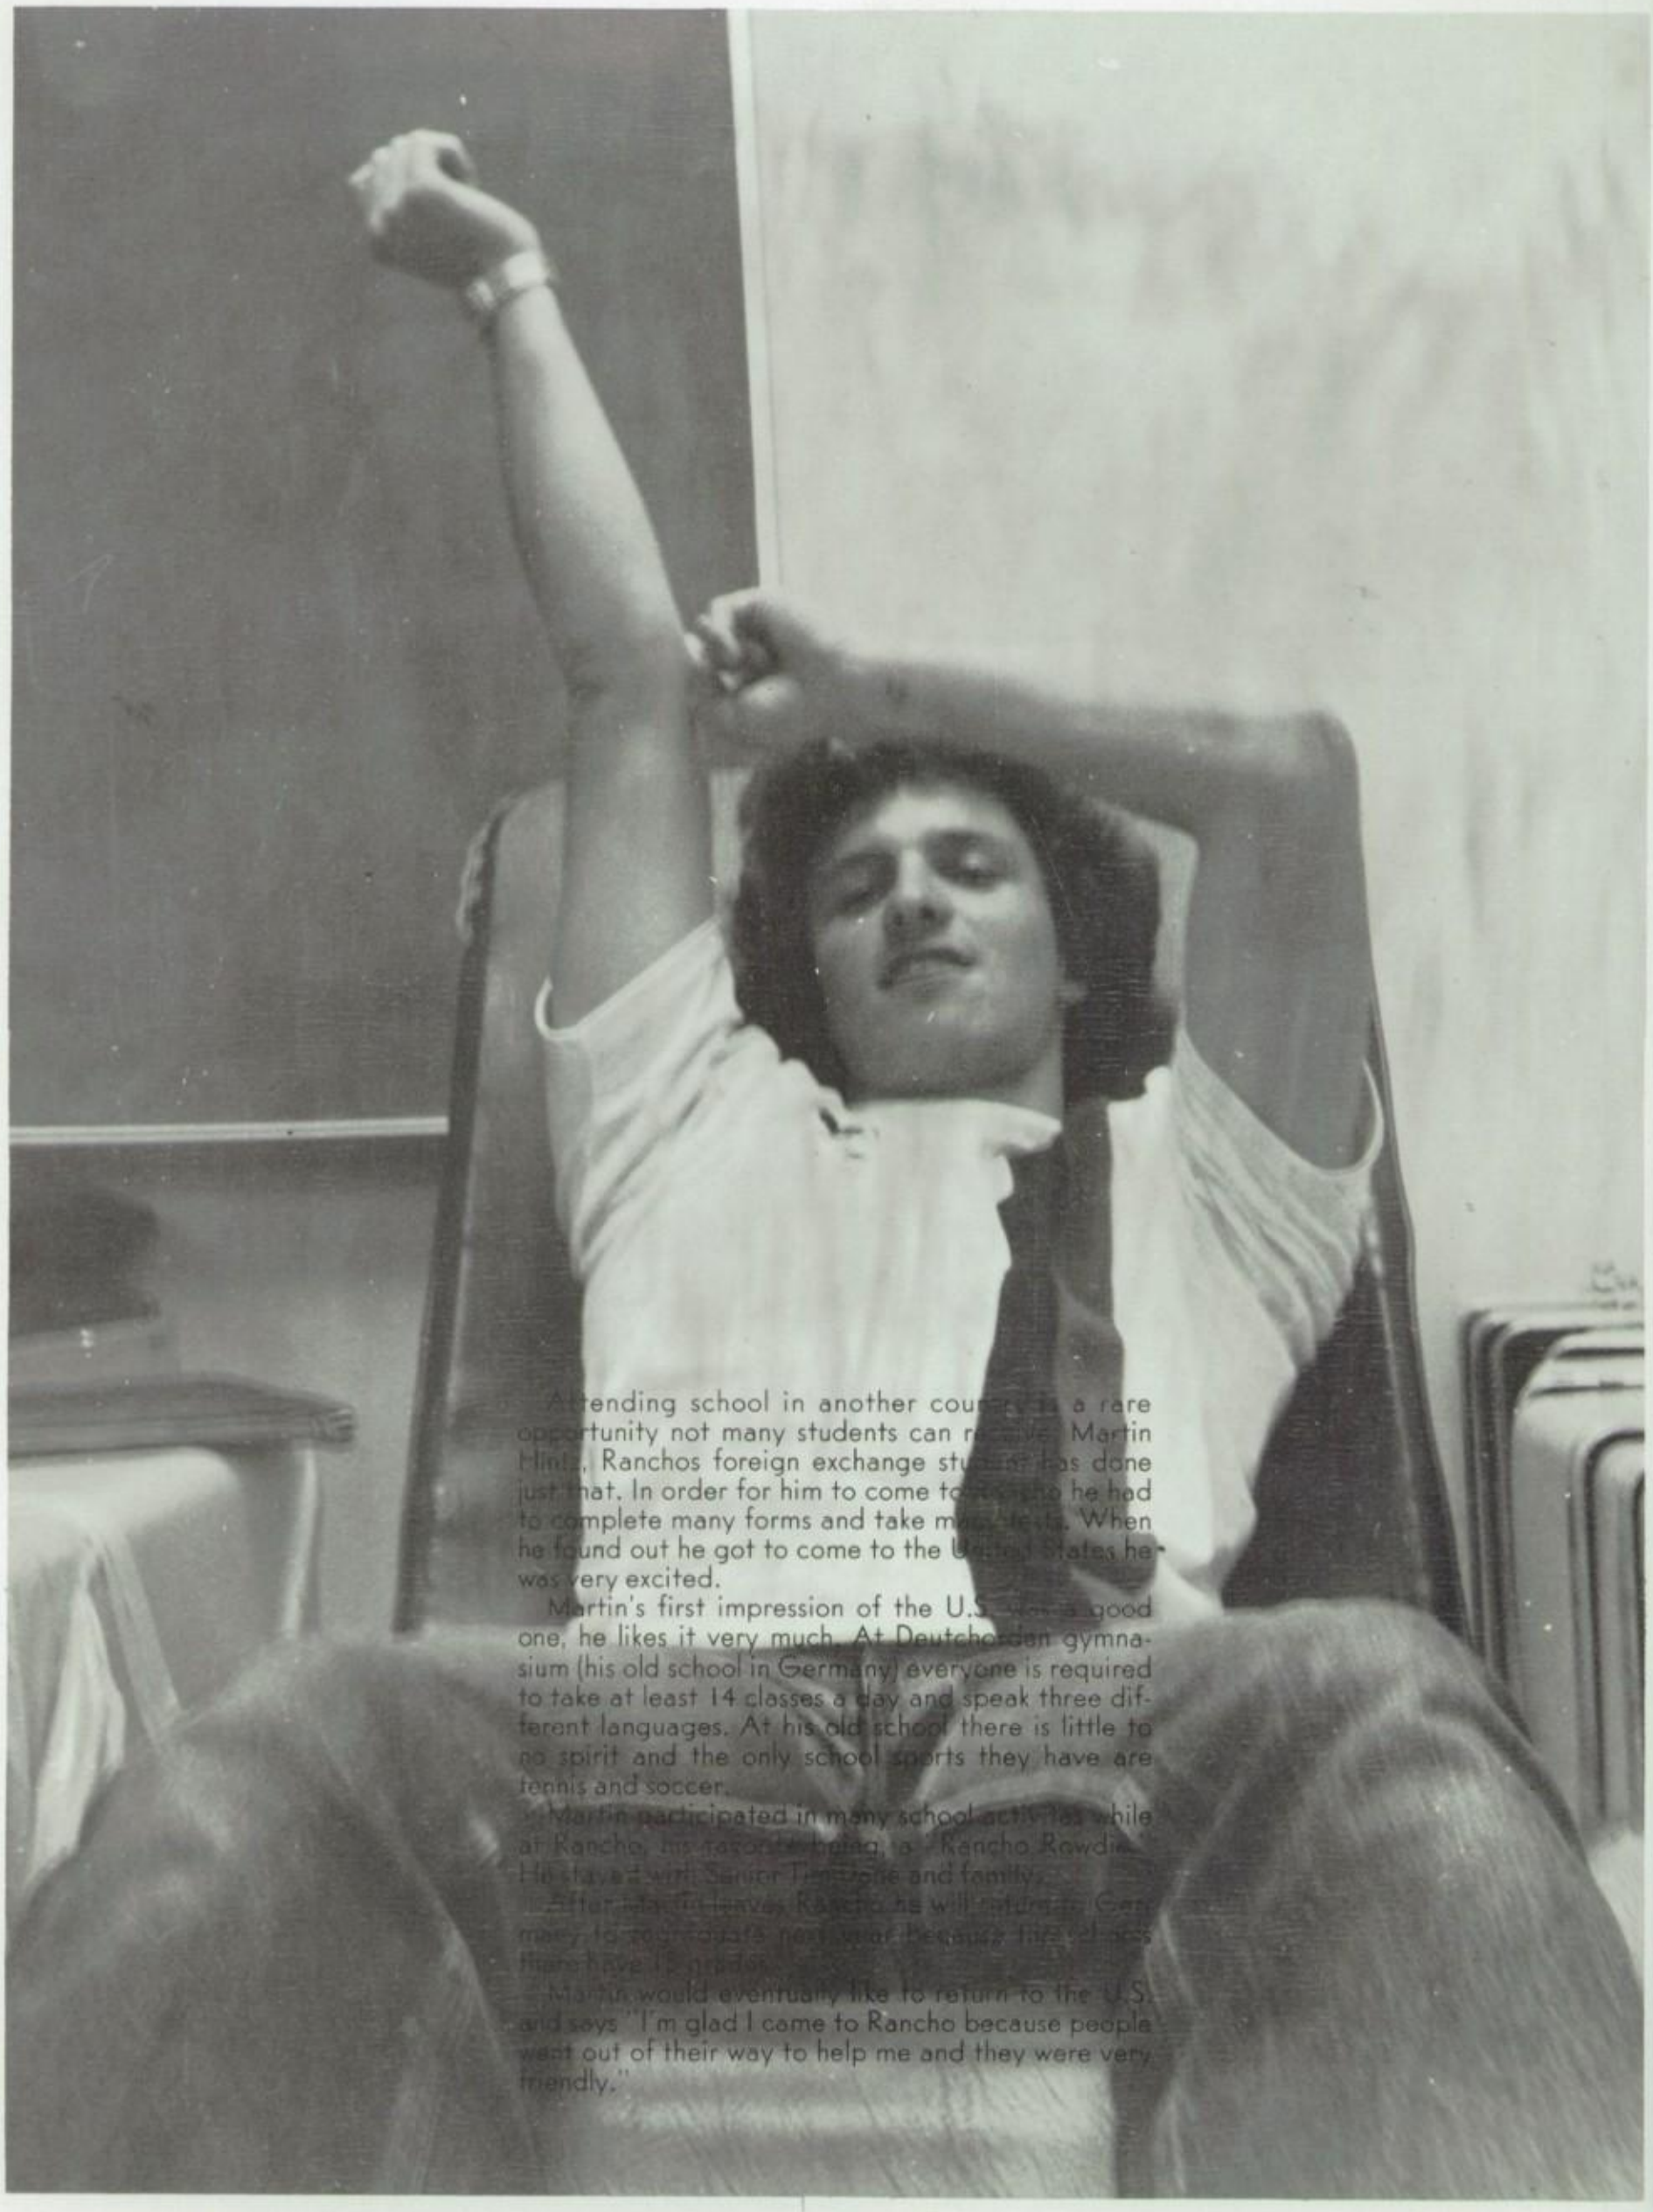
Terrie Constantine is a shocked Minnie Mouse between classes.

Sixties' rockers Eddie Riggs and Scott Killebrew give a spontaneous performance on the lawn.

Stacey Young and Scott Wallace strike a pose while Harry Krishna (Neil Deschenes) and the Krishnettes. (Amy Pence and Jane Powell) watch more exciting antics.

Delicia Barba struts her Mousey stuff.



Attending school in another country is a rare opportunity not many students can receive. Martin Hintz, Ranchos foreign exchange student has done just that. In order for him to come to Rancho he had to complete many forms and take many tests. When he found out he got to come to the United States he was very excited.

Martin's first impression of the U.S. was a good one, he likes it very much. At Deutchorden gymnasium (his old school in Germany) everyone is required to take at least 14 classes a day and speak three different languages. At his old school there is little to no spirit and the only school sports they have are tennis and soccer.

Martin participated in many school activities while at Rancho, his favorite being a Rancho Rowdie. He stayed with Senior Tim Stone and family.

After Martin leaves Rancho he will return to Germany to continue next year because the classes there have 13 grades.

Martin would eventually like to return to the U.S. and says "I'm glad I came to Rancho because people went out of their way to help me and they were very friendly."

Rancheros Step Toward Future

Rancho's award winning drill team, the Rancheros, has again had an active year. Beginning with camp in the summer they started out a fine year filled with performances, fund raising events and competitions.

The squad of twenty-four girls practiced long hours to perfect their precision performances.

Under the capable direction of Ms. Pattie Emmett, the girls raised enough money for new uniforms and sold flowers to promote Rancho's spirit.

Among their performances were: "The Band Extravaganza," "Miss Drill Team U.S.A.," Rancho's homeomecoming and the annual Rancho Review.

While at camp last summer, the Rancheros brought home four first place trophies. These awards were presented to Rancho during the first pep assembly.

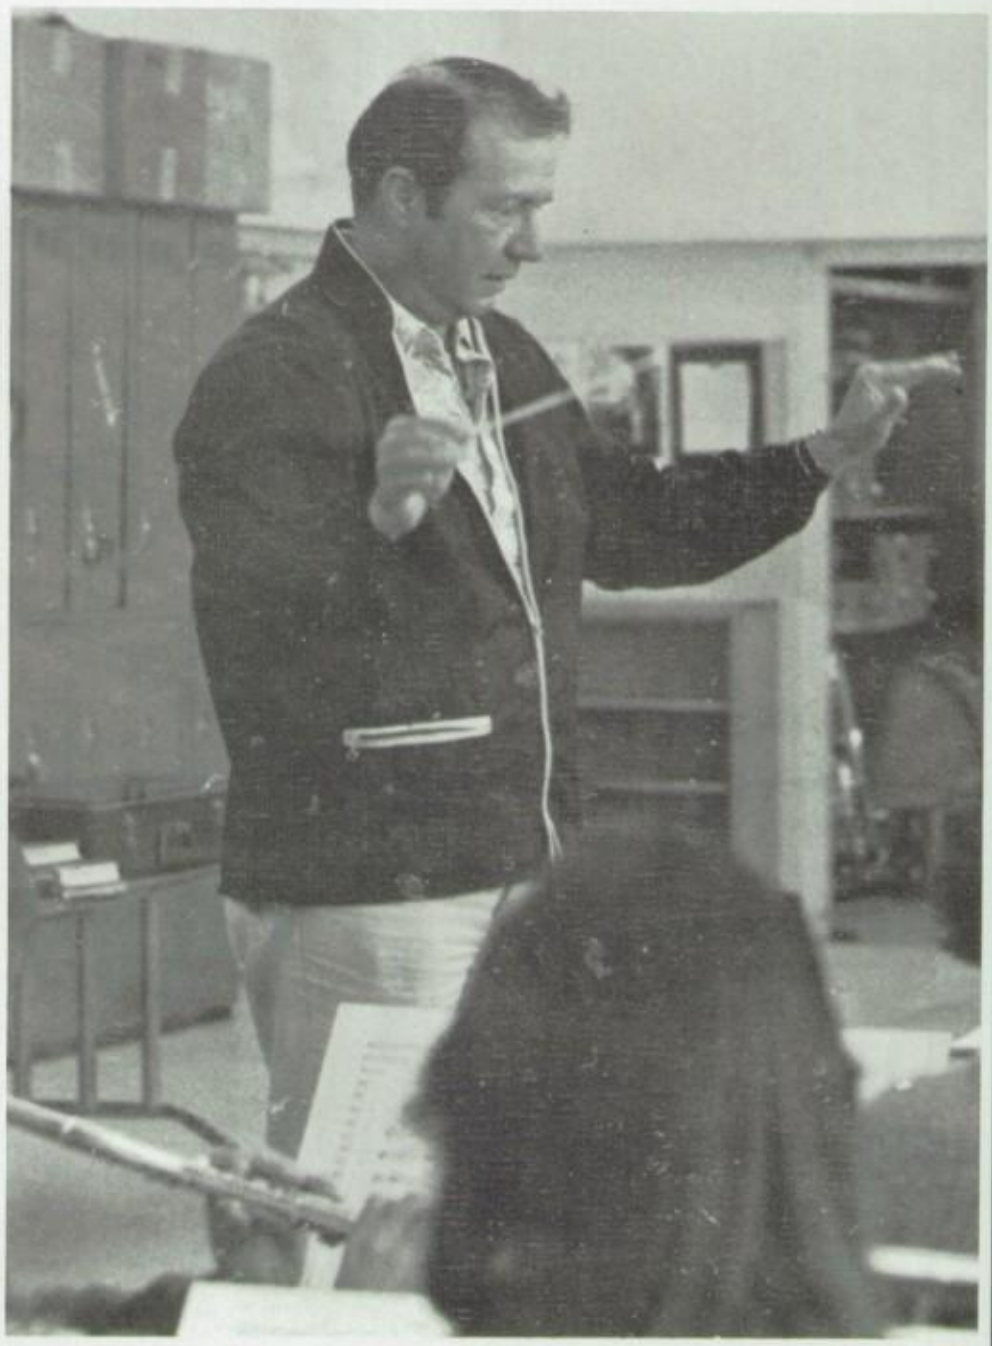
Pep Band Supports Many Activities

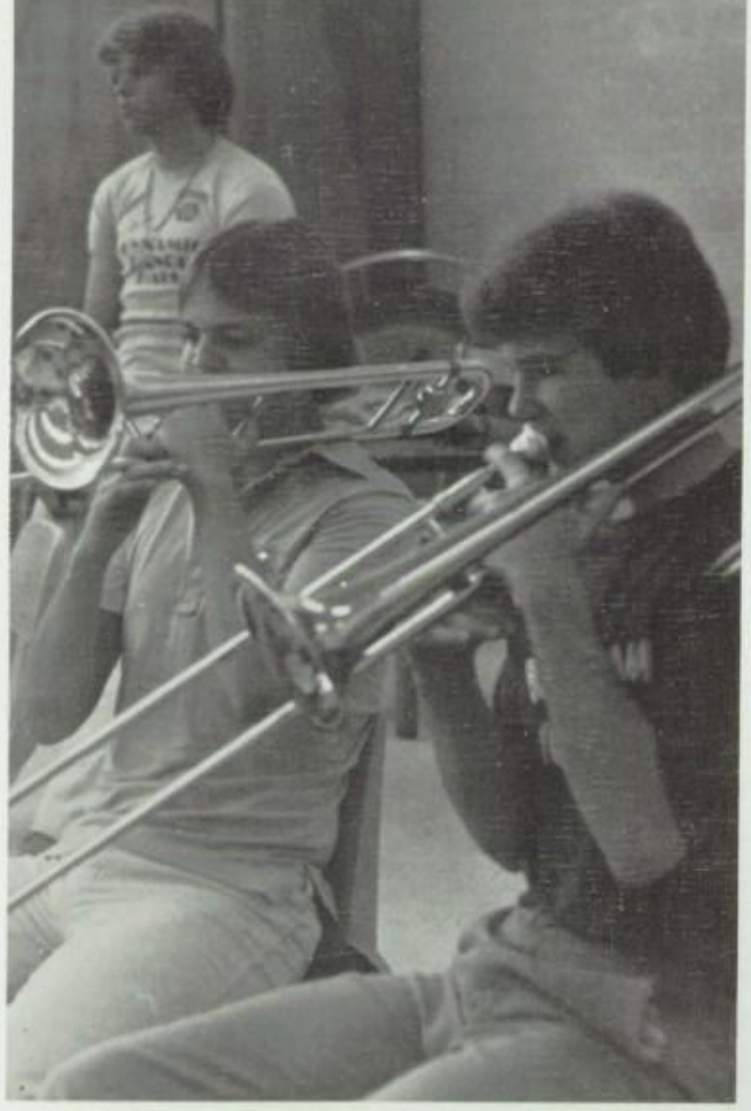
The Pep Band, under the direction of Richard Pursel and Crystal Cowens, assistant director, experienced a very successful year. They were able to raise money for their band fund by participating in several conventions. These conventions were: The National Automotive Dealers Association, Texico convention and the Mexican National Festival.

The Pep band which has twenty-five members is unique because it is a portable band. This enables them to play anywhere on short notice.

During the year the pep band participated in many school functions such as, basketball games and assemblies. One of the bands' future goals is to raise enough money to take a trip at the end of the year.

Crystal Cowens, assistant director, had this to say about the Pep band, "My memories will never be forgotten."





Golden Girls Highlight Shows

The Rancho Rams Award Winning Golden Girls did outstanding performances at football half-times and also they performed in such special events as the UNLV Band Night, Show Band of the Stars, basketball half-times, and did a standing ovation performance with fire at the half-time show of the Chaparral vs Rancho football game. Both Sara and Jeanette have won numerous awards for twirling and delighted audiences with fire and light baton routines.

Chess Club Makes Moves

The 1978-79 Rancho Chess club played their way to one of their best years ever.

Great skill and cunning on the part of members such as Dan Carilli and Richard Gillman along with excellent advising from Mrs. Reed and Mr. Dennis Blackman helped the team win.

The chess club had a total of eight matches. So far this year they have a win/loss record of 4-2-0. Hopefully they will finsih the season in first place.

Advisors Reed and Blackmer are both first year advisors.

That perfomance was one of 100-150 appearances during the year, including ballgames, assemblies, parades, and community functions such as concert appearances and conventions.

Assisting Crystale with the band was junior "soul dancing" Robert Ray. The Band provided both entertainment and spirit for home an away games. Mr. Richard Pursel was in charge of the band for the 24th straight year.

Senior Crystale Cowens climaxes four years of band membership with a final contribution as 78-79 Drum Major.

Choral Department Takes New Direction

Girls' Glee is Rancho's non-select vocal group. They accept anyone who enjoys music. Under the leadership of Ms. Ann Good, they experienced a very busy year. The group's forty-five members performed in Christmas and Spring concerts.

Girls' Glee is a training ground for Chorale. It prepared the girls for the musical knowledge they needed to be in Chorale.

Another possiblity for advanced musical training exists in Ensemble. Students who wish to join Ensemble must perform in a private audition.

Ensemble, which has a membership of fifteen is instructed by Ms. Good.

This year Ensemble had the pleasure of performing in a Christmas concert, festivals, at the Meadow's Mall and at various schools. They also entertained a group of senior citizens.

Chorale Pursues Higher Levels

Rancho's highest level of advanced musical training is Chorale. Composed of approximately eighty members, Chorale is led by Ms. Good. Cynthia DesHotel is the president of the group.

Chorale's main objective is to provide advanced training in vocals and to expand to all idioms of music.

What are the qualifications for Chorale? First of all one should have been a member of Ensemble or Girls' Glee. Secondly, a private audition is required. One's success in this audition determines their admittance into Chorale.

Chorale was able to display its musical talent in various performances during the school year. They staged a Christmas concert, participated in the annual music festival, and they also entertained at the Meadow's Mall and at many elementary schools.

Rams Ramble

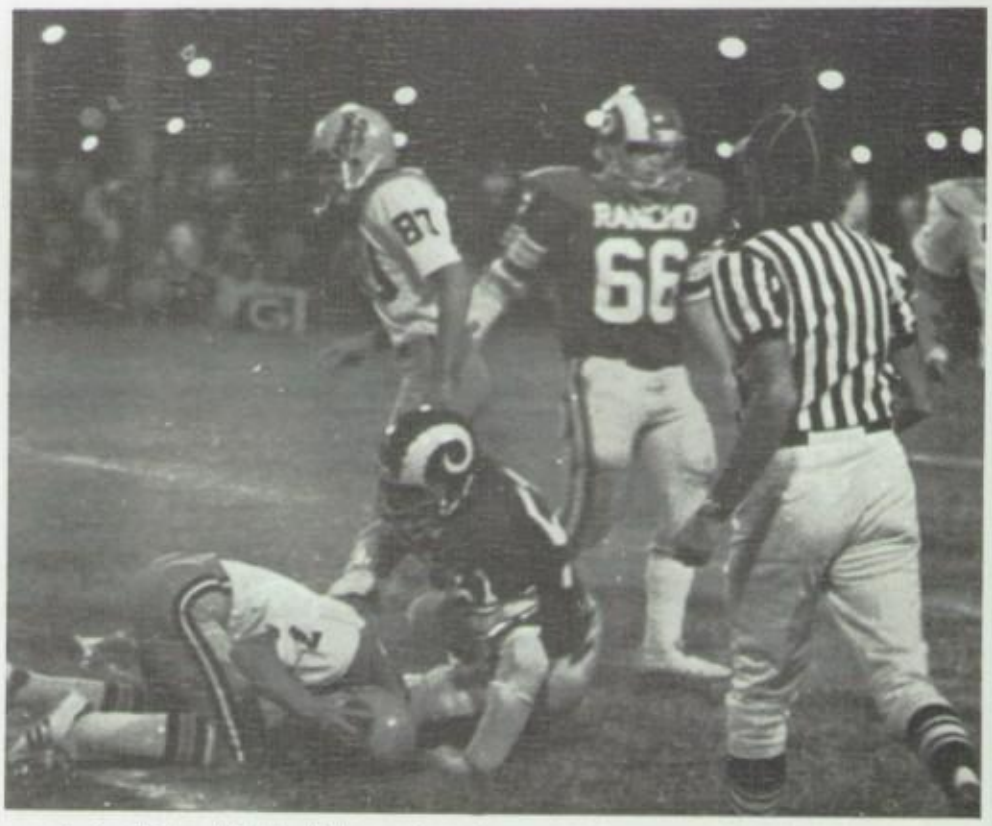
The Rancho High Varsity Football Team under first year Head Coach Jim Nicksick, struggled through a 3 win 6 loss season.

In the season opener, the Rams lost to Valley 18 to 6 in what appeared to be a defensive battle through the ballgame. Two fieldgoals by sophomore Kicker Chuck Razmic were the only points Rancho managed to score against a fierce Viking Defense.

In the third game of the season, Rancho got their first victory. It was a 21-14 win over Gorman in overtime. This game the Rams rushed for 275 yards which included two touchdown runs by Junior Tailback Robert Kahre of 67 and 19 yards respectively.

Rancho's sweetest victory came in their final game of the season, which was our homecoming. The Aries trounced the Basic Wolves 63-6 in a game the Rams scored every time they had their hands on the football.

Outstanding offensive players for the Rams were runningbacks Robert Kahre and Alonzo Woods, quarterbacks Shawn Moore and Tom Pletch and tightend Scott Wallace. Outstanding defensive players were linemen Jorge Fernandez and Raul Rios, linebackers Ed Romero, Scott Kilebrew and Dennis Helm, and safeties Robert Hindi, Scott Newton and Kevin Moloney.



Junior Tailback Bobby Kahre makes a long gain on a sweep along the sidelines.

After the loss of four mainstay senior players of last year, Coach Robert Stanley, is busy trying to rebuild his Rancho team. They put out an excellent effort this year but just did not have the experience of the already solid teams of some of the other schools. They gained valuable experience from tough, well-played matches, as well as necessary practice of the fundamentals of the game. Coach Stanley expects a strong competitive team for next year. Coach Stanley replied "With most of our players returning, next years season we will be ready and better prepared for competitive play."

Girls Club Opposition

Tha Rancho High Girls Golf Team under the supervision of coach Judith Smiley, really clubed their way into another fine season this year.

The team, which sent all members to zone and two members to state, had their third consecutive winning season with a seven win loss record.

The girls suffered at the beginning of the season, losing 4 out of their first 6 matches, but from then on they never looked back winning 5 straight.

Sophomore Kerrie Clark, who was a sensation for the team last year as a freshman, constantly shot the lowest scores through the season. Cae Pennington a senior, was also a important member of the team, she was second low-medalist for Rancho.
